

THE POINTER

UNITED STATES NAVAL ARMED GUARD CENTER

Vol. II No. 51

BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

July 6, 1945

SALES HIT $122,600 AS BOND DRIVE NEARS END

Story on Page 3

SMILING William P. Herbert, MaM-2c, of Armed Guard Center's post office, receives congratulations from Lieut. Stanley B. Atkinson, his Division Officer, on his sale of $15,000,000 in war bonds.

"Your work was often unspectacular and unheralded, but it was always hard . . ." FLEET ADMIRAL ERNEST J. KING, in his statement to the men of the United States Naval Forces regarding their part in the Nazi defeat.

Buying bonds is not spectacular, either, and it is often hard. But like the tasks of convoying and fighting, it is a "must" in putting over the most important drive of this war—the Drive for Tokyo. Even though the Navy's Independence Day War Bond Drive is over, keep buying bonds.

BLANK PAGE

Missing image file.

THE POINTER

UNITED STATES NAVAL ARMED GUARD CENTER

Vol. II No. 51

BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

July 6, 1945

AG TEAM WINS 6 OUT OF 6; LEADS SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT

Story on Page 11

CRACK! De Meo, AG second baseman, takes a healthy cut at the ball as station beats Coast Guards of Pier 18, 7 to 5.

AND HEAVEN TOO! The row of love-lies includes the performers and Conover models who helped to promote AGC's recent bond rally, and our own Dottie Murdock, Sp(S)3c, of Welfare and Recreation.

PIGEONS appeared from handkerchiefs, horns, hats — or from anything else he wished, when A. J. Cantu, magician, performed at AGC.